Turkey Day recipes to remember

Thanksgiving Day is on its way. For those of you who are still deciding what to serve with your turkey, here are a few recipes to ponder. Compliments of members of the Bryant community.

Cranberry Bread

2 cups flour	1 1/2 tsp baking powder
1 tsp salt	2 tbs melted shortening
1 egg, beaten	1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 tsp baking soda	1 cup sugar
juice and rind of orange
2 cups cranberries, halved

Sift flour, baking powder, salt, sugar, and soda. Combine orange, shortening, and enough water to make 3/4 cup juice. Stir in egg. Pour into dry ingredients. Mix enough to dampen. Fold in berries and nuts, then spoon into greased pan. Bake at 350 for 60 minutes.

French Meat Stuffing

1 onion (diced)	2 small diced potatoes
3 stalks celery (diced)	2 saltine crackers
5 lbs. hamburger	2 lbs. ground pork
poultry seasoning	salt and pepper
to taste

Brown celery and onion in a little bit of oil. Add hamburger and pork. Brown, and then add the rest of ingredients. Lower heat and simmer. In 1 hour add crumbled crackers. Simmer for 3 1/2 hours. Important - mash down every 30 minutes while cooking. Drain liquid. Cool, refrigerate until ready to stuff turkey. Makes 7 lbs. of stuffing.

Professors to sign their books Wednesday

Two of Bryant's best-known faculty authors will be signing their latest books for buyers at the bookstore Wednesday.

History professor Judy Barrett Litoff and English/humanities professor Joseph Urgo will autograph copies beginning at 3 p.m. Between them, the professors have authored seven books.

Litoff will be signing her latest books: "Dear Boys: World War II Letters from a Woman Back Home" and "Since You Went Away: World War II Letters from American Women on the Home Front." The former, based on a column that ran in a Mississippi newspaper during the war, was released by the University Press of Mississippi this month. The latter was released by the Oxford University Press in September. Co-author of the books with Litoff is University of Maine history professor David Smith.

Urgo will be signing his latest book, "Novel Frames: Literature as Guide to Race, Sex, and History in American Culture." It was released by the University Press of Mississippi in October.

Litoff also has published another book based on her World War II letter-writing project: "Miss You: The World War II Letters of Barbara Wooddall Taylor and Charles E. Taylor," her aunt and uncle. It was published last year by the University of Georgia Press. And Litoff has published two other books on midwifery: "American Midwives: 1860 to the Present" and "The American Midwife Debate."

Urgo's previous book was "Faulkner's Apocrypha: Snopes, A Fable, and the Spirit of Human Rebellion." It was published by the University Press of Mississippi in 1989.

Happy Thanksgiving

Carol and I want to extend our best wishes for the holidays to all the members of the Bryant family.

While you're visiting friends and family this season, please drive carefully and have a Happy Thanksgiving.

Bill and Carol Trueheart

Unhomecoming/ Founders Week begins today

Bryant's annual "Unhomecoming" celebration runs six days this year (Nov. 18-23) and with a special focus: the 20th anniversary of the college's move to the Tupper Campus. A highlight is Founders Day tomorrow.

The schedule of events:

- Today includes an antique photo session in the Bryant Center, an evening fireworks display over the pond, and two productions of "Pinocchio" by the National Marionette Theatre in the auditorium.

- "Founders Day" on Tuesday is sponsored by the Student Alumni Association. President Trueheart will speak at an afternoon birthday party--complete with cake. The party will be followed by the burial of a time capsule with memorabilia from Bryant and the Town of Smithfield. Also, singer Mary Brooks performs in the Bryant Center in the afternoon and there will be a speaker in the Lecture Hall in the evening.

- Wednesday includes an artist drawing caricatures and a "scaffold sit" in the Bryant Center, and the second annual Interfaith Thanksgiving Service in the Rotunda.

- On Thursday you can see your name in headlines with the creation of mock front pages, and for all you buckaroos, there will be hayrides in front of the Bryant Center.

- On Friday you can make your own music video with a lip-synch specialist. Later that evening, you can enjoy Val Kilmer paying tribute to Jim Morrison in "Doors, The Movie."

- Finally, on Saturday, Bryant hosts the state finals for flag football, followed by a scavenger hunt. Then, in the evening, Dennis Miller, of "Saturday Night Live" fame, and Kim Coles, of "In Living Color," perform in the gym. Phi Kappa Sigma also erects its second "cardboard city" outside the Bryant Center as a fund-raiser to aid the homeless.

Sweet Potato Casserole

4 cups sweet potatoes, 2 eggs, beaten cooked and mashed 1/4 cup brown sugar
8 oz. cream cheese, 1/2 tsp salt
softened 1/2 cup unsalted
1/2 tsp nutmeg butter, softened
3/4 cup chopped 2 1/2 tbs dry sherry
walnuts

Preheat oven at 350. With electric mixer whip all ingredients, except walnuts and nutmeg, until light. Stir in walnuts and put into buttered casserole dish. Spread evenly and grate nutmeg over the top. Bake 45 minutes, until golden. Serves six.

Pumpkin Soup with Gruyere cheese

The stock:
seeds and scrapings 2 celery stalks,
from pumpkin or plus leaves
squash 3 thyme branches,
2 bay leaves chopped small
1/2 tsp dried sage 1/2 tsp salt
leaves 1 turnip, peeled 2 carrots, peeled and diced
and diced 8 cups cold water
4 parsley branches

Use sugar pumpkins, or perfection or butternut squash. Cut the pumpkin or squash in half and scrape out all the seeds and stringy material with a large metal spoon. Put them in a pot with the remaining ingredients, bring to a boil, simmer for 25 minutes, and then strain.

The soup:
1 pumpkin or squash 6-7 cups soup stock
(2-3 lbs) halved and 3/4 cup light cream
scooped out white pepper to taste
3 tbs butter 3 oz Gruyere cheese,
1 yellow onion, diced grated
2 chopped thyme 1/2 tsp salt
leaves

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Bake pumpkin or squash halves, face down, on lightly oiled baking sheet, about 1 hr. Remove from oven, and when cool enough, peel off skin. Reserve any caramelized juices that may have collected on the pan. Melt butter in a soup pot, add onion, and cook over medium heat for 5 min. Add pumpkin or squash, the juices, if any, the salt, and 6 cups of stock. Bring to a boil, and simmer, covered, for 25 minutes. Pass the soup through a food mill. Return soup to pot and add cream and more stock, if necessary, to thin. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Stir in grated cheese and garnish with thyme.

Cranberry Chutney

1 bag (16 oz.) 1 cup diced celery
cranberries 2 cups sugar
1 med. apple, diced 1 cup O.J.
1 cup raisins 1 tsp ground ginger
1 cup walnuts, 1 tsp grated orange chopped peel

In 3 qt. saucepan over medium heat add cranberries, sugar, 1 cup water and bring to a boil, stirring frequently. Reduce heat to low, simmer 15 minutes and remove from heat. Stir in remaining ingredients, cover and refrigerate. Makes seven cups chutney.

WPRO-AM to speak out from campus

WPRO-AM radio's Mary Ann Sorrentino will speak out from Bryant next Monday (Nov. 25) morning.

The Providence talk-show host is bringing her three-hour show to the Rotunda from 9 a.m. to noon. The show is being promoted as "Sorrentino returns to school" to talk about Bryant in particular and higher education in general.

Among the guests on her show are President Trueheart and several professors and students. In three one-hour blocks of air time, they will discuss topics as broad as the state of higher education nationally and as narrow as Bryant programs and the day-to-day issues facing students in the '90s.

A bit less campus 20 years ago

This aerial view of the campus 20 years ago shows quite a bit less Bryant. There is no Bryant Center, no townhouse complex, and no Koffler Technology Center. Dorms 14, 15, and 16 and the MAC also had not been built. It would be 1976 before the bell tower was raised.

Reserve space for Holiday Party now

Bryant's annual Holiday Party, on the road this year, is less than four weeks away (Dec. 14), and reservations are due this week.

The Providence Marriott is our host from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m., or until Sunday morning if you take advantage of the overnight special on rooms offered by the hotel.

A reception in the Grand Ballroom foyer opens the evening. Dinner follows at 7:30 p.m. The menu includes fresh fruit, garden salad, potatoes, fresh vegetables, and an entree of chicken or salmon.

Dancing runs from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. with sandwiches and beverages offered midway through the evening. The Marriott's special rate is $59 per room.

Deadlines for reservations are Friday (Nov. 22) for dinner and Saturday (Nov. 23) for the room. Dinner is free to employees and $15 for a guest ticket.

Send your dinner reservation cards to Jane St. Onge. Call the Marriott at 1-800-937-7768 or 272-2400 to reserve a room.

'Cardboard city' going up again

The brothers of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity at Bryant again will erect a "cardboard city" outside the Bryant Center on Saturday evening (Nov. 23) to raise money for the homeless.

The brothers, along with other Phi Kappa Sigma chapters at other campuses, will spend one night sleeping outside to demonstrate the plight of the homeless. Money raised will go to McAuley House, a homeless shelter in Providence.

Sleeping in the cardboard structures will continue until Sunday morning. As Bryant's "homeless" seek shelter in their makeshift shanties, they will be soliciting donations from the entire Bryant community and local businesses. They will also accept donations of money and food at the "city" and hand out literature describing the homeless problem.

The holiday season can be a very trying time for the homeless. It is for this reason that the Greeks feel the holidays are an appropriate time to help McAuley House.

To contribute, call brother Raymond Dunne at 232-8105.

Keith Lacy '89 received the award at the October meeting. It goes to the individual with the highest combined score on the CPA exam while passing all four parts of it at the first sitting.

'Pinocchio' on campus today

We cannot tell a lie. "Pinocchio" is on campus today as part of the fall Performing Arts Series and Unhomecoming Week.

The National Marionette Theatre will present its version of this classic tale twice: at 1 p.m. for fourth- and fifth-graders in Smithfield, and at 7:30 p.m. for the Bryant community and guests. Both performances are in Janikies Auditorium.

Tickets are $2 for students/children, $4 for faculty/staff, and $6 for the general public. They are on sale at the Bryant Center Info Desk. The evening show is followed by a dessert reception in the Rotunda.

Shirly Morrison scholarship set up

A scholarship has been established in the name of Shirly Morrison, Faculty Suite B coordinator at Bryant since 1985, who died November 4. She was 59.

The officers of the 1769 Fund of the Faculty Federation have established the memorial fund. Donations can be made payable to the 1769 Fund and sent to professor Joe Ilacqua in Suite B.

A Bryant employee since 1978, Morrison served as a typist in support services for five years and as an administrative secretary to the Dean of the undergraduate faculty for two years before taking over in the faculty suite. She is survived by her husband Donald, and three children, Donald, Judi '85, and Susan.

Different Drummers pace Campus Campaign to record

The Different Drummers did it.

With a 96-percent participation rate, tops in the competition, the team paced the 1991 Campus Campaign for the Bryant Fund to its highest total ever: 80 percent participation.

For topping the field, every member of The Different Drummers receives a one-week pass for front-row parking in February. Each team member also had a chance at a raffle to win one of five fitness center passes for a year and a $10 gift certificate to the Heritage Room.

Final results of the competition, as announced by Maureen Sullivan, assistant director of annual giving, at the Victory Party last week:

TEAM	PARTICIPATION
The Different Drummers	96%
The Campus Hurricanes	91%
The Indian Givers	90%
Too Many Chiefs	84%
Make My Day	83%
The Sun Devils	79%
The Achievers	75%
Whatever Happened to Stratton?	74%
We Gave at the Office	66%
Boosters for Over the Top	60%
